

Good Morning Railfence Bunch* by Carolyn j. Morris – Review

Date: February 8, 2016.

Review by: Laurie Groe, Manager | Youth Services, Caledon Public Library

Meet Chick and Duckling, the two main characters of local author's Carolyn j Morris children's book, Good Morning Railfence Bunch. Her first in a series, Morris magnificently marries rhyme, rhythm and repetition to tell the story of Chick and Duckling as they wander the farm together meeting all the other farm animals. Drawing on her experience as a junior kindergarten teacher and a farming hobbyist, Morris captures the delights of all the rich experiences a farm can have, especially impactful as it is told from the perspective of two small baby farm animals. Her melodic writing style will delight children and adults alike! Together with illustrator Richard McNaughton, Good Morning Railfence Bunch is magically brought to life with realistic images of farm animals making it a must read!
